

DR. DENNIS MAKI

GRADUATED FROM EDGAR HIGH SCHOOL IN 1958

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

UW-MEDICAL SCHOOL:

B.S.-PHYSICS, WITH HONORS

M.S.-PHYSICS

M.D.-ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA

Dr. Maki's current appointment is Ovid O. Meyer Professor of Medicine and the Department Head of the Section of Infectious Disease, Department of Medicine at the University of Wisconsin Medical School.

Dr. Maki has professional certifications from the American Board of Medical Examiners, American Board of Internal Medicine, Infectious Diseases-ABIM, Critical Care Medicine-ABIM, and Advanced Trauma Life Support-American College of Surgeons. He is a member of, and has held offices in eleven professional societies.

Dr. Maki's National Service listing includes publications from 1970-71 to the present. He has served on committees at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and State of Wisconsin since 1974. His list of Scientific Journal Service (Ad Hoc Reviewer for Manuscripts), Honors & Awards, publications and abstracts and papers presented at scientific meetings is over 40 pages long.

Dennis is married to Gail Dawson and they have three children: Kim (1966), Sarah (1968), and Dan (1970).